INVITATION

We are pleased to invite you to the 20th edition of the Annual Scientific Congress of the European Society of Cardiac Arrhythmias, "ECAS 2027", to be held in Rome from 19 to 22 June 2027, at the A.Roma Lifestyle Hotel. Twenty years - an important milestone achieved thanks to the value of the scientific work carried out by ECAS and also to the successful format of the congress, which takes place in a friendly atmosphere ideal for exchanging ideas and networking amongst colleagues of all ages, as well as for sharing perspectives and growing together.
Once again this year, the conference program includes: plenary sessions, symposia, workshops and oral presentation sessions, as well as the 4th edition of the "ECAS Educational Course 2027" with a basic and advanced program organised by Professor Thorsten Lewalter.
We warmly invite you to join us in large numbers, bringing your experience, passion and enthusiasm.
